

Isidoros Monogioudis

Project Officer of Information Technologies at European Defence Agency

Isidoros Monogioudis (Retired Colonel of Greek Armed Forces) is the Project Officer of Information Technologies at EDA mainly coordinating the research activities in the area of Communications, Information Systems and Networks with a special focus on Artificial Intelligence leading the EDA's Action Plan on AI for Defence.

Isidoros has an extensive background in CIS technologies and Cyber Defence with more than 20 years experience in the military environment and 5 years in the private sector, before joining EDA at 2021 where since then he works for the Research Technology and Innovation Directorate